

Poincare Cabinet Introduces Plan of Strict Economy

French Premier Endorses to Prevent Exportation of French Money—Imports Will Be Curtailed—Appeal to French People to Use Nothing But Necessaries—Restaurant Service to Be Restricted.

Paris, Aug. 20 (AP).—The Poincare cabinet today outlined a drastic program of restrictions in an effort to prevent exportation of French money abroad and to restore the franc to some sort of stability.

The restriction deal with importation of grain and other products as well as curtailment in the use of necessities produced within France. Additional limitation of the importation of wheat, by the compulsory introduction of other flour in the market as outlined at yesterday's meeting of the cabinet, is part of the present program.

Appeal to National Patriotism.

The cabinet has appealed to the patriotism of the nation to aid it in its campaign and proposes, by a strict scrutiny of imported products to cut down the amount of necessities brought into the country. The ministry plans at the same time to set up machinery to insure fair prices for all food products and to encourage the strictest economy in private as well as public expenditure.

Government Sets Example. Meanwhile the government is ready to set an example and plans to consolidate a number of departments as a measure of economy. It will call on the departments of municipalities to suppress all officials and municipal bodies except those strictly necessary to the country's everyday life.

Will Restrict Restaurant Service. One of the first measures which the cabinet plans is to restrict restaurant service. The plan now under consideration is the limitation of restaurant meals to two meat courses instead of three, four or even more as is popular among the certain classes of the French people.

To Sell "Stale" Bread. Another important regulation will be that of imposing upon bakers the restriction of selling only bread that has become more or less "stale," thus reducing the consumption of this most important of French food products to a great degree.

Regulation of restaurant menus is considered indispensable, especially the more luxurious places frequented by the wealthier foreigners, complete food distribution system, under government control will be instituted and endowed with wide powers concerning regulation of consumption and price fixing.

Will Restrict Imported Foods. Imported food products will be carefully scrutinized and their use in quantity discouraged unless it is absolutely necessary for the welfare of the people. "Fair price" committees will be set up throughout the country to keep the cost of food and other products within reasonable bounds in relation to the value of the paper franc.

RAILROAD TAKES ACTION AGAINST BUS LINE

The New York Central Railroad has taken legal notice that it has competition in carrying passengers between Poughkeepsie and New York city. The railroad company is petitioning in Supreme court for an injunction against the bus line of the A. M. Kennedy Transportation company.

The bus line is conducted between the Campbell Hotel in Poughkeepsie and the Lorraine Hotel in New York city. The charge made by the operators of the bus line is $2.75 for one-way trip and $5 for a round trip. The railroad charges $2.65 for a trip by way with considerable reduction in commutation tickets.

The New York Central complains that the defendants have received no certificate of convenience and necessity from the Public Service Commission and have filed no schedule rates. The railroad company claims that while it paid $12,513.69 in real and personal taxes and for franchise taxes, the bus line paid no such taxes.

FEDERAL LAND BANK ADMS TWO BRANCHES

Springfield, Mass., Aug. 20.—With three branches in New York State, the Federal Land Bank of Springfield now has local units in practically every agricultural county of the State with a local headquarters within a relatively short distance of every farmer.

According to bank officials, there is probably the last local association on that will be set up.

The 51 local branches of the Federal Land Bank now in active operation in New York State are in the nature of the growing interest of farmers in the long-term Federal Land Bank Loan.

The easy payment, non-callable nature puts the farmer on a firm financial footing and enables him to meet his short-term indebtedness with less trouble and worry.

Cry Baby Bandits Will Cry in Jail

For at Least Seventeen and One-half Years—One Gets Flat Sentence of Twenty-One Years—Why They Were Dubbed "Cry Babies".

New York, Aug. 20 (AP).—Heavy prison sentences were dealt by Judge Barrett today to the five "cry baby" bandits who were found guilty last night of first degree robbery.

Peter Mahoney, Francis Kerrigan, Philip Oberst and Bernard Frankel were sentenced to Sing Sing prison for 17½ to 35 years. Leo Hecker was given a flat sentence of 25 years. The robbers were dubbed "cry babies" by the police because all of them wept while they were being identified by their victims at police headquarters. They were specifically charged with the attempted robbery of a private bank in The Bronx, where a sixth member of the gang was shot to death.

Independent May Run in Illinois

Revelations of Expenditures in Senatorial Primaries May Result in Independent Entering Field—Julius Rosenwald Opposed to Republican Nominee.

Chicago, Aug. 20 (AP).—Expenditures of vast sums of money in the Illinois primary campaign last April by senatorial nominees, as revealed by the Senate Campaign Funds Committee, may result in the name of an independent candidate appearing on the November election ballot.

An investigation down state, the Chicago Daily News says, discloses resentment against the public utilities "almsh" fund of Colonel Frank I. Smith, Republican, and George E. Brennan, Democrat, senatorial nominees.

In the same story the newspaper printed a statement by Julius Rosenwald, Chicago philanthropist, in which he said that Republican voters of Illinois should reject Colonel Smith, because he was financed in his campaign by "heads of great public utilities."

Mr. Rosenwald, who is at the summer White House conferring with President Coolidge, expressed doubt as to whether Colonel Smith would be seated if elected.

Pueblo Captures One Baby Bandit

One of Two Brothers Who Have Been Terrorizing Countryside Arrested—Younger Brother Still at Large—No Thrill Left.

Pueblo, Colo., Aug. 20 (AP).—Half of Pueblo county's band of so-called "baby desperadoes" has been captured.

Forrest Gonce, 21, who with his 14 year old brother Leslie, has terrorized the countryside for the last ten days, was arrested here yesterday. Leslie is still at large and is believed to have stolen an automobile and left the city shortly after Forrest was arrested.

Forrest was apprehended after relatives told police that he was here visiting his parents. They said they tried to persuade the youth to surrender and when he refused they quietly called for officers.

The boys decided to abandon their latest career of outlawry after successfully eluding the many possemen who scoured the countryside for nearly a week. Forrest said, "There was no thrill left in it, so we decided to go some place where there were officers to entertain us," he said.

Five Drowned In Ohio Flood

Thousands of Acres of State's Corn Land Under Water—Some Streams Begin to Recede But Showers to-day Expected to Send Them to New High Levels.

Columbus, O., Aug. 20 (AP).—With the death toll due to flood conditions in Ohio during the past four days standing at five and with thousands of acres of the state's finest corn land and a number of highways under water, showers were again forecast for today.

Although a number of streams were reported receding last night, additional rainfall was expected to send them to new high levels, persons near their banks once more to evacuate farms and small villages in the bottom.

Four deaths attributed to the precipitation were reported yesterday. A boy was drowned near Bellefonte several days ago, making the fifth casualty of the present period of heavy rains.

CUMBERLAND RIVERS HAVE FIVE DEAD

The community of Chester received quite a scare last Tuesday evening when the summer resort of Herbert Shibley caught fire from the lake shore. There were about 100 guests in the house and all of them escaped without injury. Four bodies and a bath room were the only parts of the building that received considerable damage.

News Agencies' Tribute to Stone

Representatives of News Agencies From All Over World Honor Founder of Associated Press—Conference Seeks International Recognition of Property Rights in News.

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 20 (AP).—Speakers at today's public session of the conference of representatives of news agencies under the auspices of the League of Nations, paid tribute to Melville E. Stone, for many years general manager of The Associated Press and now its counselor.

Elmer Roberts, representing The Associated Press, who introduced a resolution advocating international recognition of property rights in news, described Mr. Stone's work in securing legal protection of news in the United States. He told how Mr. Stone with the support of the directors and members of The Associated Press, won their cause and how the seal of approval was finally given by the supreme court. Mr. Roberts referred to Mr. Stone as the man for whom he had the deepest respect and even reverence.

Roy Howard, chairman of the board of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, said that he believed Mr. Stone's contribution in establishing the property right in news was the greatest single achievement in American journalism during the last generation.

The resolution introduced by Mr. Roberts recommends that governments accept the following principles: First, that news as a business commodity is property; second, that this property right does not exist with the mere first appearance of news either in a single newspaper or bulletin board but continues and is entitled to protection until its full benefit has been realized by its owner; and third, that violation of this property right is unfair competition.

Mr. Howard introduced an amendment to the resolution offered by Mr. Roberts, stating that property right shall not apply to official news and communication emanating from governments. These should be considered the property of the entire public, the right to which cannot be restricted to any single newspaper or news agency. The amendment said that property right should apply, however, to news of a governmental character which may have been obtained solely as the result of individual initiative and enterprise by a newspaper or news agency.

CHICAGO GANGSTERS KILL MEMBER OF ANOTHER GANG

Chicago, Aug. 20 (AP).—Gangster bullets that have been turned upon associates of Philip Piazza, slain vice lord of Chicago Heights, were used again today. This time Joseph Nerone or Maroni, 37, said to have been a nephew of Piazza, died when seven shots had entered his body.

Nerone had attempted a counter attack for his hand clutched a revolver from which two shots had been fired. He was killed as he stood by his expensive automobile in front of a barber shop. His diamonds worth a small fortune were not taken.

Police thought that the motive centered about rivalry between liquor gangs.

During this period the Producers sold over 5,500 cattle, 24,000 calves, 30,000 sheep, and 120,000 hogs. This association serves farmers in New York, Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana.

Warren W. Hawley, Jr., of Batavia, N. Y., a member of the marketing committee of the Farm Bureau Federation, is a director of the Producers' Association.

Another Revolt in Mexico Is Found By U. S. Officers

Troops Ordered to American Border—Band of 100 Heavily Armed Men Planned Movement Into Mexico—Many Alleged Released—Catholics Recognize Frankness in Reply of Calles to Their Communication.

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 20 (AP).—Mexican troops have been ordered to the border, opposite Columbus, N. M., according to Juarez military officials following discovery of the planned movement of a band of 100 heavily armed men into Mexico in a revolutionary movement.

The plot, discovered by United States agents, was reported by them to Mexican officials at Chihuahua City and Juarez. Details have not been revealed by the investigating officers.

Troops Ordered to Juarez. Additional Federal troops have been ordered to Juarez from Chihuahua City, it was said, further strengthening the garrison, which was augmented yesterday by the arrival of 175 soldiers. Several large shipments of ammunition also have been received from the interior.

The patrol guard of the international bridges, regarded as vital points in case of trouble, also have been strengthened.

Further indications of preparation for emergency is seen in the announced intention of General Ramon Lopez, commanding officer of the Juarez garrison, to leave within the next 48 hours for Douglas, Arizona, on an "inspection trip" and the information that General Joaquin Amara, Mexican secretary of war, will be here next week on a tour of inspection.

Alleged Plotters Released. Mexico City, Aug. 20 (AP).—All the Catholics arrested in connection with the alleged conspiracy to foment uprisings throughout the republic last Sunday, simultaneous with the movement of General Enrique Estrada in California, have been released, except three women, whom the police call the leaders of the plot, and eight men.

Senora Josefa Novoa, Senora Luz F. Deperchey and Senora Paz Gomez Linares are the women who are being held.

Say Priest Killed Major. Special despatches from Puebla say that a Catholic priest has been brought there under arrest from the village of Huehuetlan. The charges against him were not revealed. Local rumor, however, is that the priest killed the mayor of the village because the mayor refused to open the Catholic Church. There is no verification of this.

Religious Riot in Villa Cecilia. Advice from Tampico say that a religious riot occurred in the town of Villa Cecilia but that no persons were killed or wounded. The municipal committee in charge of the church dismissed the sacristan. Communicants gathered in protest against the dismissal, and when the police attempted to eject them from the church a general fight ensued.

Order Churches Kept Open. The department of the interior has received complaints that the municipal citizens' committees who were placed in charge of Catholic Churches when the priests withdrew, have been closing churches in some sections of the republic. Secretary of the Interior Ortega immediately notified the authorities throughout the nation that all places of worship must remain open and that the closing orders only apply to church annexes.

Catholics Study Calles Reply. Mexico City, Aug. 20 (AP).—The Catholic Episcopate began careful study today of the question whether it shall petition Congress to annul the religious regulations which have caused a cessation of Masses and other ceremonies in the Catholic Church or whether it shall make an appeal to the Supreme court to pass upon the question of the validity of the religious provision of the constitution.

This step is being taken following receipt by Archbishop Mora del Rio of a letter from President Calles in answer to a request from the Episcopate for a suspension of the regulations. The President in his letter informed the archbishop that he proposed to uphold the constitution as it relates to churches and declines because of his political and philosophical convictions to request Congress to amend the fundamental law.

What Calles Suggested. The President suggests that if the Episcopate desires any modification of the law that it may have recourse in an attempt to have Congress change it or appeal to the supreme court for relief. He says that if the Episcopate should introduce an amendment bill in Congress he will use his presidential prerogative to have it withdrawn.

Bishop Recognizes Calles's Frankness. Bishop Diaz, secretary of the Episcopate, commenting upon President Calles's reply, said, "We must recognize that President Calles is frank in his reply to the Episcopate's letter, as he declares his philosophical and political opinion forbids him from transmitting our request to Congress." "In the present phase he is maintaining the right which the constitution denies Congress, in admitting that we have the right to make a petition, because the constitution denies us everything. In the third place the President admits that we have not rebelled against the laws in ordering a suspension of religious services." "His reply points out a way to settle the conflict."

Coolidge Guests Talk Farm Relief

Senator Capper of Kansas and Julius Rosenwald Disagree on What Should Be Done For Farmers—Both Agree However That Country Is Prosperous.

Paul Smiths, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP).—Varying views on farm legislation proposals were presented at the summer executive offices today by Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, and Julius Rosenwald of Chicago, chairman of the board of Sears Roebuck and Company, guests at the summer White House.

Both Mr. Capper and Mr. Rosenwald agreed substantially in their reports of the business and economic situation of the country but while the senator spoke in approval of the price stabilization plan contained in the defeated McNary-Hauser farm relief bill of the recent session of Congress, Mr. Rosenwald said any price stabilization plan was bound to end in "a vicious circle."

Few Setbacks For Republicans. The Republican party, Senator Capper predicted, will suffer few setbacks in the congressional elections this fall. He declared President Coolidge was strong in the west, while being "disappointed somewhat," that he did not support the McNary-Hauser farm program in the recent session of Congress.

Coolidge Stronger Than Ever. While Mr. Rosenwald declined to discuss politics, he expressed the opinion that reports of "agitation" against the President in the west had been exaggerated, that the farmers "now feel differently" about Mr. Coolidge, and that he is stronger than ever with the people everywhere.

Mr. Rosenwald reported a prosperous business condition throughout the country, except in the Dakotas and Minnesota, a view substantially the same as that of Senator Capper.

League Approves Kellogg Stand

League of Nations Circles Pleased With Address by American Secretary of State—Some Feel United States Has Taken Correct Stand.

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 20 (AP).—Secretary of State Kellogg's address at Plattsburg on Wednesday has pleased League of Nations circles because of renewed assurance that the United States will stick to the present disarmament discussions while there exists any hope that something can be achieved in the reduction of armaments.

There is some tendency to agree with the position taken by the United States that land armaments at least can be better treated regionally than generally. As for extension of the Washington naval accord, it is thought not impossible that a way will be found for the five big naval powers to negotiate a new treaty, without, however, separating the action from Geneva's main effort.

Disarmament is proving even a bigger problem than had been anticipated and it is realized here that infinite patience must be the watchword if anything is to be accomplished.

The recent Greco-Yugoslav accord is felt to be an important addition to European security and may be a precursor to a genuine Balkan security pact.

Queer Note Left By Aged Sculptor

Who Killed Himself By Leaping From Water Tower on Estate of Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney—'I am not Explain First Part of Message.'

Westbury, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP).—A card bearing the words: "Mrs. Whitney—you win; Tan Tan, toughest attempt" (all is ended), was left behind by Galtan Ardison, aged sculptor, who leaped to his death from a water tower on the estate of Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney.

Tan Tan is the nickname of the 74-year-old sculptor's son, Galtan Ardison, Jr., who found the card in his father's pocket after the body was picked up at the base of a 100 foot water tower yesterday.

Ardison has been assistant and adviser to Mrs. Whitney in her sculptural work for 14 years. His son said he had been troubled with neuritis recently.

Mrs. Whitney is at Newport, R. I. What was meant by the sculptor when he wrote the first part of the note—"Mrs. Whitney—you win"—could not be explained. The second part of the note, to his son, reading "Tan Tan, toughest attempt," was interpreted by the son as his father's farewell before leaping to his death.

American Tourists Leave Damascus

Two Hundred Americans Have Terrifying Experiences—Protected by French Troops—Dance Tribesmen on War Path.

Constantinople, Aug. 20 (AP).—Local newspapers print despatches from Adana telling of terrifying experiences of 200 American tourists in Damascus.

After visiting the ruins of Hama, under the protection of French armored cars and airplanes the tourists were escorted by soldiers to Damascus. During the night of August 14 tribesmen cut the telephone and electric light wires, threw the city into darkness and made a strong attack to which the French replied with heavy gunfire. Emerging from their hotels at daylight the morning of the 15th the Americans sought a French military escort to the coast, declaring they did not wish to risk remaining in Damascus. Their route from the city was strewn with a hundred French and many brave dead.

NEWBORN WOMAN WRENDS WHILE ON VACATION

Mrs. James Flynn of Van Ness street, Newburgh, and her sister, Mrs. John Shaffer of Jersey City, were robbed of valuables amounting to $400 while spending their vacation at a cottage in Keansburg, N. J. The women were at the beach when the house was burglarized. Several boxes were smashed but nothing was stolen from them.

SHULL FRACTURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Raymond Kellerhouse of Stillville was seriously injured in an auto accident near Kinderhook, early Thursday morning. He was found unconscious near his car by two young men who brought him to the Hudson City Hospital where it was found that he had suffered a severe fracture of the skull. He was unconscious for several hours.

Stockholders Taking More Stock

As evidence of their own faith in the future the directors some time ago increased their own individual holdings of stock and at an informal meeting of the directors and about a dozen interested stockholders held in the hotel Thursday evening, $17,600 additional was subscribed. If, at the expiration of 10 days, original stockholders have not taken the entire issue, an opportunity will be given new investors, but the chances that this will occur are very slight.

Stock subscribed now may be paid for, 25 per cent September 1, 25 per cent December 1, 25 per cent March 1 and the final 25 per cent June 1, 1927.

Shows Higher Percentage. Comparative statements issued by the American Hotels Corporation show that the Governor Clinton is operating at a higher percentage of room occupancy than any other hotel in the chain. For several weeks past all rooms have been taken before 5 o'clock nearly every day. In many cases late comers obtain lodging elsewhere and return to the Governor Clinton for their meals, which in part accounts for the enormous consumption of food. The dining room and coffee room, considered as restaurants carrying their share of the hotel's operating expenses and overhead, are earning a satisfactory profit.

Make Hotel Winter Home. From the number of persons inquiring about rooms for the winter, there is every reason to believe that any loss in transient guests during the winter will be made up by persons who take rooms for the winter and make the Governor Clinton their winter home. Dining room receipts will also be greatly helped by local banquets and dinner parties, which can be nicely taken care of in the new private dining room in process of construction, thus substituting a local business in the months in which tourist business is suspended.

LONG LOST COPPER MINE IS MISSOURI MYSTERY

No Trace of Rich Vein Worked by Slater in 1813 Has Been Found

Eminence, Mo.—Missouri has a lost copper mine. It is located in the southeast section of the state and is known to be very rich. But though it has been searched for almost as frequently as has the "mother" silver lode of the West, it remains lost.

The tradition of it comes from New Orleans. The latter part of the Eighteenth century, when Missouri was still part of the Louisiana territory and under the French, a man named Slater from Missouri appeared at New Orleans every spring with a raft loaded down with rich copper matte and sold it there the record of the sales still being preserved, and showing very rich ore. Matte is ore that has been partly refined in a crude way.

Slater made his last trip in 1813 and then disappeared. It is probable he was killed by Indians. With his disappearance passed all human knowledge of the copper mine he had worked for so long. There have been many searches made for it, but in vain. Along in the 1880's the state made a geological survey and reported finding copper indications in Shannon county, near the headwaters of the Current river.

Soon after this report, Letson Balliet, now a mining engineer of Nevada, interested Chicago capitalists in the lost copper mine of Missouri, and a party of six men, starting from Kansas City, went by rail to Willow Springs. They wandered through the hills and hollows of considerable territory, but failed to find the Slater store of copper or evidence of his diggings.

And this is only one of the many expeditions that have been made to the Ozark region to locate the lost mine, without success.

Serum Now Used in Treating Spider Bites

Los Angeles, Calif.—Spider bites are added to the list of afflictions that can be treated with a specific serum. Dr. Emil Bogen of this city has reported to the American Medical association.

While serious poisoning from spiders is not so common as is popularly believed, there is a species inhabiting the southern half of the United States that causes acute pain and sometimes death. It is known variously as the "shoe button spider," the "hourglass spider" and the "black widow," the last being a reference to its pleasant conjugal habit of devouring its mate.

About half the reported cases attributed to the work of the black widow occurred in California, said Doctor Bogen, and those received in the Los Angeles general hospital were treated first with sedatives to relieve the intense agony from which the patients were suffering.

Very little is known of the antibody formation to spider venom, but experimental work has indicated that one bite confers immunity. This possibility led to the suggestion that some specific serum treatment might be helpful. Accordingly, a sample of blood was obtained from a man who had recovered from a severe poisonous spider bite and injected intramuscularly into a patient who had just entered the hospital in great agony.

Since this patient improved after the treatment, the same procedure was followed in other cases, with a much quicker abatement of pain than would have been expected without it, said Doctor Bogen.

"The results," he declared, "while not conclusive, are sufficiently encouraging to warrant the continuation of the use of convalescent serum in every case that is admitted following a poisonous spider bite, and a supply of convalescent serum is now kept at the hospital for this purpose."

Find Song by Author of "Kentucky Home"

Louisville, Ky.—A photographic reproduction of "The Merry, Merry Month of May," a hit song "lost" by Stephen C. Foster, author of "My Old Kentucky Home," has been received in Harpersburg, Ky., and will be placed in Federal hall with the collection of Foster relics. It was announced recently.

The reproduction was received through the courtesy of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce and the recovery of the lost song is explained by the library of commerce in a bulletin. The bulletin follows:

"A chance discovery brought to light the title of a song by Stephen C. Foster, which is not mentioned by Morrison Foster in his brother's biography and collection of songs, nor does it appear in the library's catalogue of first editions of Stephen C. Foster. It is called 'The Merry, Merry Month of May.'"

Cape and Sweater Late Sports Note

Ensemble Outfit Features
Paris Modes—Tailored Suits Favored.

The cape and sweater ensemble is the latest sports note of the Paris fashion, writes a fashion correspondent of the New York Herald-Tribune. The use of these ensembles are about half, with military collars. They are developed in a novelty woolen, which precisely matches the wool of the V-necked sweater. The final member of this triumvirate, the skirt, is fitted all around.

Another charming ensemble of the Paris family, appropriate for town or country, is of natural kasha, which is shown wearing. The novel military cape is attached in lieu of sleeves and the new roll collar is piped in red kasha. The jacket is high and double breasted, with the V-necked sweater underneath showing a fitted skirt of kasha and a blouse of flat crepe.

The tailored suit is enjoying a long, long renaissance this season. The spring part of this revival is that a Frenchwoman has embraced it so wholeheartedly as to actually look ugly when wearing it. This was particularly evident at the Racing Club, where the French hard-court tennis championships were played, and Wimbledon, where the fair Parisian stars could scarcely be distinguished from their London sisters. Blue and brown tweeds are the latest fabrics for this season's tail-

Outfit of Tomato Red With White Polka Dots

Pauline Starke, the popular motion picture actress, is here shown wearing a street dress of tomato red with white polka dots. The color is relieved by a panel of white flat crepe. The skirt is knife-plaited.

Dark Colors Favored for Late Summer Wear

A season that starts out in a riot of color frequently ends with black and navy blue in places of distinct importance. No one can tell just why this is, but the fact remains that almost invariably midsummer finds these darker shades conspicuously exploited. For the dress of semi-sheer material for wear when it is necessary to come into town, nothing is smarter than black or navy blue, particularly if there are piquant touches of color in collar ends or in the facings of revers.

A frock of very recent origin and especially noteworthy because it is a different interpretation of the popular two-piece mode is of black crepe Elizabeth, with a circular piece attached to the waist to form a tunic. This has an inverted plait in front to match the plait on the skirt. Jabots of the material give a graceful line, which is accentuated by smaller jabots of white crepe Elizabeth.

In almost every instance a wide-brimmed hat accompanies a frock of this type.

Hats With Broad Brims; Sheer Summery Frocks

Summer afternoon frocks, which have a place of minor importance in the wardrobe of a French woman, are almost essential to the American, a fact due in a great measure to the difference in climate in France and America. Our warm summer days and brilliant sunlight have brought about an awakened interest in hats with broader brims. Hats of this type have not been much in evidence during the past two seasons, but this summer their vogue is definitely established and one sees them worn with the sheer summery frocks so appropriate to the season and the climate.

Lingerie frocks also once more have a place in the fashion picture and are charmingly youthful in line and in their exquisite coloring.

Hats Are High, Pointed, Trimmed With Flowers

Hats are high and pointed and sometimes trimmed with flowers. Many are round and trimmed with transversely placed feathers of flowers, which make the crown appear to be higher. The panne hats are high, crowned and soft, with the brim turned down over the eyes. The felt ones are generally high crowned, pointed and folded in the center, with very small brims; large ones are but rarely seen. Toques are either embroidered or trimmed with degrade ribbons.

The evening headgears are generally in open-worked metal resembling closely laurel leaf crowns, but sometimes are made of the same fabric as the dress and have the ends forming a scarf.

Cut of Sleeve, Mounting of Plaits Is Important

Like most other competitors, the race to lead in fashion depends largely on the finish. Never before have clothes been so beautifully finished off. Tremendous attention has been paid to the cut of a sleeve and the mounting of plaits. In consequence the clothes of this season give the impression of extreme simplicity where as they are anything but simple and are not to be duplicated in home manufacture.

Larger Hats

Larger hats for summer wear in many instances reveal an upturned rim in back. With the brim caught to the crown with a cord of gurgled ribbon.

LONG LOST COPPER MINE IS MISSOURI MYSTERY

No Trace of Rich Vein Worked by Slater in 1813 Has Been Found.

Eminence, Mo.—Missouri has a lost copper mine. It is located in the southeast section of the state and is known to be very rich. But though it has been searched for almost as frequently as has the "mother" silver lode of the West, it remains lost.

The tradition of it comes from New Orleans. The latter part of the Eighteenth century, when Missouri was still part of the Louisiana territory and under the French, a man named Slater from Missouri appeared at New Orleans every spring with a raft loaded down with rich copper matte and sold it there, the record of the sales still being preserved, and showing very rich ore. Matte is ore that has been partly refined in a crude way.

Slater made his last trip in 1813 and then disappeared. It is probable he was killed by Indians. With his disappearance passed all human knowledge of the copper mine he had worked for so long. There have been many searches made for it, but in vain. Along in the 1800's the state made a geological survey and reported finding copper indications in Shannon county, near the headwaters of the Current river.

Soon after this report, Letson Balliet, now a mining engineer of Nevada, interested Chicago capitalists in the lost copper mine of Missouri, and a party of six men, starting from Kansas City, went by rail to Willow Springs. They wandered through the hills and hollows of considerable territory, but failed to find the Slater store of copper or evidence of his diggings.

And this is only one of the many expeditions that have been made to the Ozark region to locate the lost mine, without success.

Serum Now Used in Treating Spider Bites

Los Angeles, Calif.—Spider bites are added to the list of afflictions that can be treated with a specific serum, Dr. Emil Bogen of this city has reported to the American Medical association.

While serious poisoning from spiders is not so common as is popularly believed, there is a species inhabiting the southern half of the United States that causes acute pain and sometimes death. It is known variously as the "shoe button spider," the "bourgeois spider" and the "black widow," the last being a reference to its pleasant conjugal habit of devouring its mate. About half the reported cases attributed to the work of the black widow occurred in California, said Doctor Bogen, and those received in the Los Angeles general hospital were treated first with sedatives to relieve the intense agony from which the patients were suffering.

Very little is known of the antibody formation to spider venom, but experimental work has indicated that one bite confers immunity. This possibility led to the suggestion that some specific serum treatment might be helpful. Accordingly, a sample of blood was obtained from a man who had recovered from a severe poisonous spider bite and injected intramuscularly into a patient who had just entered the hospital in great agony. Since this patient improved after the treatment, the same procedure was followed in other cases, with a much quicker abatement of pain than would have been expected without it, said Doctor Bogen.

"The results," he declared, "while not conclusive, are sufficiently encouraging to warrant the continuation of the use of convalescent serum in every case that is admitted following a poisonous spider bite, and a supply of convalescent serum is now kept at the hospital for this purpose."

Find Song by Author of "Kentucky Home"

Louisville, Ky.—A photographic reproduction of "The Merry, Merry Month of May," a hit song "lost" by Stephen C. Foster, author of "My Old Kentucky Home," has been received in Bardonia, Ky., and will be placed in Federal hall with the collection of Foster relics. It was announced recently.

The reproduction was received through the courtesy of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce and the recovery of the lost song is explained by the library of commerce in a bulletin. The bulletin follows:

"A chance discovery brought to light the title of a song by Stephen C. Foster, which is not mentioned by Morrison Foster in his brother's biography and collection of songs, nor does it appear in the library's catalogue of first editions of Stephen C. Foster. It is called 'The Merry, Merry Month of May.'"

A fact due in a great measure to the difference in climate in France and America. Our warm summer days and brilliant sunlight have brought about an awakened interest in hats with broader brims. Hats of this type have not been much in evidence during the past two seasons, but this summer their vogue is definitely established and one sees them worn with the sheer summer frocks so appropriate to the season and the climate.

Lingerie frocks also once more have a place in the fashion picture and are charmingly youthful in line and in their exquisite coloring.

Hats Are High, Pointed, Trimmed With Flowers

Hats are high and pointed and sometimes trimmed with flowers. Many are round and trimmed with transversely placed feathers or flowers, which make the crown appear to be higher. The pause hats are high crowned and soft, with the brim turned down over the eyes. The felt ones are generally high crowned, pointed and folded in the center, with very small brims; large ones are but rarely seen. Toques are either embroidered or trimmed with degrade ribbons.

The evening headgear is generally in open-work metal resembling closely laurel leaf crowns, but sometimes are made of the same fabric as the dress and have the ends forming a scarf.

Cut of Sleeve, Mounting of Plaits Is Important

Like most other competitions, the race to lead in fashion depends largely on the finish. Never before have clothes been so beautifully finished off. Tremendous attention has been paid to the cut of a sleeve and the mounting of plaits. In consequence the clothes of this season give the impression of extreme simplicity where as they are anything but simple and are not to be duplicated in home manufacture.

Larger Hats

Larger hats for summer wear in many instances reveal an upturned line in back, with the brim caught to the crown and a cascade of graceful ribbons.

Brief Happenings Around the State

(By The Associated Press)
"Being New York State First" has become so popular with farm organizations and other rural groups that for a time this summer the travelers threatened nearly to swamp Cornell University in their tours of inspection.
Figures given out by the State College of Agriculture at the university showed that during one three week period the institution was visited by more than 600 persons on poultry tours, while 300 more, having as their slogan "Know Your Own State Colleges," invaded the grounds.
During the same time six intra-county farm management tours conducted by specialists from the college of agriculture took 500 farmers an average of 100 miles each, while 12 additional farm management tours to be held late this month are expected to put 1,000 persons in motion.

Driven to a farmyard by hunger,
the first Canadian lynx seen in southern Essex county in years was killed recently. It was shot through the heart by one of the farmhands as it was prowling around the house in search of food.

The animal measured four feet,
seven inches from tip to tip, but it was extremely thin, weighing only 41 pounds. The mate and kittens are believed to have a den somewhere on the mountain ledges west of the farm, which is located in the town of Ticonderoga.

The Erie Railroad has been arrested at Binghamton on a warrant issued by City Judge Rex Titus.

The arrest was made on complaint of Commissioner of Public Works Charles W. Kress, who alleged that the railroad tore up and obstructed a city street without first obtaining a permit.

The offense is punishable by a fine of $25 and an additional penalty of $25 for each day the condition continues. The warrant was served on representatives of the railroad.

Automobile traffic on the Adirondack highways has reached such volume that many reports are being made of small game being killed.

Tourists arriving at Saranac Lake
recently told of striking woodchucks, squirrels, rabbits and foxes, while some cars came into town with the silent, but unmistakable evidence of having hit a skunk.

Occasionally an automobile hits a bear or deer, but the big game rarely is killed, and usually succeeds in escaping in the surrounding forests.

One automobilist said that in nine miles between Ticonderoga and Crown Point he noted a cat, chicken, large snake and woodchuck dead after having been struck by cars.

A NEW DEEP LAKE FOR THE GENESSEE RIVER

Albany, Aug. 20.—The biological survey party conducting fisheries investigations for the Conservation Commission is now studying the region of the Genessee where within a few years a new deep lake will be formed by the construction of the proposed big dam at Mt. Morris. The region lies within the Portage and Letchworth Park area and the famous High Banks of the Genessee.

The lake to be created by thus damming the Genessee river will be 6 1/2 miles long, 150 feet deep at the head and from a quarter to about a mile wide. Its potential value in terms of fish will be very great. In this respect an important question will be, what fish will be best to stock these new waters? This question is being studied by the biologists from various angles as they relate to the problem of suitable fish for the new conditions which will be created.

The interpretation of conditions in view of the future needs of this new lake is but one important feature, however, of the biological survey of the waters of the Genessee. The entire system is considered as a unit.

Beginning at the Pennsylvania state line, the region of the headwaters, the main stream and its tributaries are being studied throughout their extent until the waters enter Lake Ontario. It is an investigation of the fisheries resources of the river system as a whole and has for its immediate object the formation of a scientific basis for the future stocking of all the streams and lakes in the system.

Old Log Cabin At State Fair

How the Agricultural Family Lived a Century Ago to be Shown in Interesting Exhibit—Other Features.

If Secretary of Agriculture William M. Jardine accepts an invitation, extended by the Department of Farm and Markets and the New York State Agricultural Society, to attend the State Fair to be held at Syracuse, August 30 to September 4, he will see an old log cabin with all of the accoutrements of the agricultural home of one hundred years ago.
Secretary Jardine has been asked to be one of the speakers who will make addresses from the log cabin during the fair, according to an announcement by Commissioner Berne A.
Pyrrke.

It has been planned by Charles H.
Baldwin, of the Department of Farm and Markets, and E. R. Eastman, president of the New York State Agricultural Society, to show just how the agricultural family lived a century ago. There will be the old-fashioned fireplace with its Dutch oven, the spinning wheel, loom, grandfather's clock, melodeon, pewter dishes, old blue ware and the trundle bed for the children. The cabin will be lighted with candles.

Old Time Cobbler.

In one corner will sit John Mulberry, of Potter's Hollow, Greene county, a cobbler who has devoted more than 60 years to his trade, and a familiar figure in Greene and Schoharie counties for half a century and more, especially in the days when he trudged from house to house and took measurements for the boots and shoes of the family. Mr. Mulberry made these boots and shoes in the same little shop which he still occupies in Potter's Hollow. In the log cabin at the State Fair he will show how he made the high-topped boots and the old-fashioned heavy shoes from cow hide with his knives and wooden pegs.

Hot Johnny-cake.

Probably one of the most attractive features of the Farms and Markets' exhibit at the State Fair will be the making of corn bread in the Dutch oven. This, known as Johnny-cake, will be taken from the oven, hot and crisp, buttered with the fresh product of the dairy and passed out to lucky visitors. A recipe book containing a number of recipes of dishes, favorites of our grandmothers, will be presented with the Johnny-cake.

Spinning Contest.

Jane Vroman of Schoharie, New York, will preside at the spinning wheel and loom. She will take the carded wool, spin, weave and knit as in olden times. Also there will be contests open to any woman more than 50 years of age. The contestants will be required to take the carded wool and make it into yarn.
Quality and quantity will be the points to be considered in the awarding of the prizes of twenty-five dollars; ten dollars; and three five dollar awards. Each contestant will be awarded a diploma to be signed by Commissioner Pyrrke, and Lieutenant, Governor Seymour Lowman and E.
R. Eastman, president of the New York State Agricultural Society.

Music of Another Day.

Songs that were sung a hundred years ago in the old log cabin, which came from Standley Hill, Franklin county, N. Y., will resound in the cabin again when the young ladies from the department, in colonial costumes, will sing these old songs to the accompaniment of the melodeon.

John A. McDermott of Cortland county, state champion as an old-time fiddler, will play in the log cabin every evening of the fair.

In addition to Secretary Jardine,
Assemblyman D. P. Witter of Tioga,
Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, secretary of state, and Jared Van Wageningen of Laweraville have been asked to give short addresses during the week.

"STAR SPANGLED BANNER"
AS NATIONAL ANTHEM.

New York, Aug. 20.—A concerted effort will be made by the Veterans of Foreign Wars to have the Star Spangled Banner officially endorsed by Congress as our National anthem.
It was announced yesterday by Herman La Tourette, state patriotic instructor of the V. F. W., from the New York headquarters of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, 32 Union Square.

Plans are actively under way under the direction of Mr. La Tourette and Captain Walter D. Joyce, chairman of the V. F. W. National Americanization committee, to secure the maximum public support for the movement in accordance with a resolution passed at the recent state encampment of the organization.

"The Star Spangled Banner has for many years been officially adopted by the United States Army and Navy and all government authorities, and is generally considered as our National Anthem," said Mr. La Tourette in explaining the purpose of the movement. "Our organization, together with other patriotic societies, plans a concerted effort to have a proclamation issued by the President and to have Congress extend its official endorsement to the formal recognition of the Star Spangled Banner
as our national anthem."

"The Veterans of Foreign Wars, the 'Gold Star Organization', all of whose members fought overseas in the Civil War, feel strongly that this song, whose strains inspired their patriotism in China and the Philippines, in the Spanish-American War and in the trenches 'Over There', should receive this belated recognition of the significance which it holds for every citizen of the United States."

At ExpositionFifty Boy Scouts Being Selected from Five States to Demonstrate Scout Training at Eastern States Exposit-tion at Springfield in September.As the moon rounds full in the month of Harvest, the Red Indian will once more return to the hunting grounds of his race in the land of the Nipmuck beside the banks of the Connecticut river.Tips of the red man will rise on the shores of the stream and painted braves gather hard by the site of the old Indian village of Agawan near where, a tradition says, the bold Nipmuck held council with the fierce Pequots in the days of three hundred years ago as the camp fire of King Philip's warriors blazed nearby.But with their crimson and ochre war paint washed away, the modern Indians will be revealed as splendid American boys; fifty members of the Boy Scouts of America who are being selected from ten states on account of some outstanding ability in each to populate a Mohawk Indian village to be shown under the auspices of the Boy Scouts at the Eastern States Exposition at Springfield, Mass., from September 19 to 25 inclusive. The exposition grounds are just outside Springfield at Agawan, and are almost precisely the site of an early Indian village, traces of which lasted down to modern days.
Thus there is an appropriate touch in a modern Indian encampment at that spot.Boys Now Being Selected.
For six days the boys, who are now being selected from more than 150,000 of their fellows, will demonstrate their knowledge of Indian lore and their training as Scouts. The exposition is this year celebrating its tenth anniversary and the Boy Scout display will be among its important features.The exposition embraces ten states including all of New England, and New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware. Within this area competitions are now being carried on among Scout troops and Lone Scouts for the selection of representatives to go to Springfield, to display important features of scouting to the spectators, this year expected to number fully 300,000.The Mohawk Indian Village.The boys will set up more than a dozen Indian tipis, oftentimes called tepees, to compose a model camp designated as The Mohawk Indian village. Here, during the Exposition, the Scouts will camp and go through their program, with the village forming the background for much of the Indian craft work and demonstrations. A silver cup will be awarded to the Boy Scout showing the best tipi exhibit in the village.
These tipis, it is provided, must be at least sixteen feet in diameter at the base. The Mohawk Indian Village will be under the supervision of the Camping Department of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America. Efforts are being endeavored to make the 1926 Indian village the best of its kind, and far and away in advance of the Scouting demonstrations made at the Eastern States Exposition in previous years.Activities of the Week.It is not alone the spectators who attend the Exposition who will derive benefit and entertainment from the showing made by the Boy Scouts at the Indian Village, as the scouts themselves will be the beneficiaries of a carefully planned educational week. They will be instructed by a staff of scout leaders and specialists including Ralph W.
Jacobs, expert in handicraft and archery; Uncle Benjie Hyde, whose work as a naturalist at the Kanaw-hake Scout Camps at Bear Mountain Park is famous; Harry Jordan, well-known guide will pass on to the boys many of the things he has learned in his life in the Maine woods, such as canoe building, snowshoe making, log cabin construction and archery, while Captain Herbert S. Saunders will be in charge of the building of model boats, an activity into which Boy Scouts have entered in the last year or two.Work of Special Patrols.A number of Boy Scout councils will send especially trained patrols, —squads of eight boys each,—who will demonstrate their facility in tower building, tent pitching, pioneering, general camp work, pyramid building, etc. Among those already listed are patrols from Stamford, Conn., New Rochelle, N. Y., and Jersey City and Elizabeth, N. J.
Totem poles carved and painted by boys at several of the summer scout camps will be erected on the grounds.The modern Indians, in their paint and feathers will give a number of Indian dances under the direction and guidance of Arthur D. Marston, of Waterbury, Conn., supervisor of Indian lore. The dances will include the Sacred Fire Dance, the Ghost
Dance, the Buffalo Dance, the Snow Dance, the Scalp Dance and the Blizzard Dance.Scouts, a division of the Boy Scout Movement, composed of older boys, many of whose activities are carried on in water or in close relation to it, will have a "land boat," the "Wamp," in command of Skipper Fred
A. Cox. There will be ship drills, life saving and swimming methods, climber, splicing, sinking of sea chests and many other features with a tangle of the salt air about them.Plan for "Lone Scouts."Lone Scouts—a newer branch of Scouting,—will have a booth to illustrate the work being done by them.
Three boys will man this booth and they will be selected by competition.
Two will be farm boys, who comprise a large proportion of the Lone Scouts while the third will be a Lone Scout interested in amateur journalism.

Guilty of MurderSeattle, Washington, Man Murdered
His Daughter Says Jury—Pin
Penalty at Death By Hanging—
Attorneys Ask for New Trial.Seattle, Wash., Aug. 20 (P).— Wallace Clyde Gaines, charged with slaying his daughter, Sylvia, faced the gallows today. He was convicted of first degree murder in superior court here last night and the jury fixed the penalty at death by hanging.As the verdict was read the prisoner collapsed, but quickly regained his composure, leaving the court room under guard with the nonchalance of a spectator."It sure was a body blow," was his only comment regarding the jury's decision.A fight to save their client's life was immediately launched by Gaines's attorneys. They presented motions for an arrest of judgment and for a new trial.The conviction of Gaines brought to a close a trial that has attracted more attention than any one criminal proceeding in the history of Seattle. The state's evidence against the defendant was largely circumstantial.Sylvia, 22 years old, graduate of Smith College, Northampton, Mass., was killed the night of June 15.
Her body was found the next morning on the shore of a lake about two miles from the Gaines home. She came to Seattle last September from the home of her mother, Mrs. H. E.
Maynard of Lynnfield, Mass., after a 16 year separation from her father.
Gaines had been a resident of Seattle
since he returned from the war suffering from ill effects of his service.With the finding of the slain girl, her father came forward as one of the leaders in the search for her murderer. He was arrested and charged with her death.The state contended that the girl was killed as the result of an attempt on her part to end an unnatural relationship with her father.
The prosecution produced a number of witnesses who testified that they had seen a man of Gaines's general appearance near the place where the body was found.Baby Peggy, a film star, wants to

The acknowledged medicinal efficacy of the naturally carbonated State Owned Saratoga mineral waters has created such a demand for these waters that imitations are claiming to be "the same as" or "just as good." Therefore when ordering, just remember that the only naturally carbonated waters being bottled at Saratoga Springs under State supervision are Geyser, Hathorn and Coca.

Geyser is the sparkling, delicious table water used to prevent and relieve indigestion, acidity, stomach-upsets, gas, sour stomachs, biliousness, nervous indigestion and rheumatic tendencies.

Hathorn is the gentle, natural, pleasant laxative water, bottled at the famous old Hathorn spring number two. These are the two waters which hundreds of thousands of people go to Saratoga every year to drink. Carloads of these famous Geyser and Hathorn medicinal waters are shipped every week to all parts of the country.

NUMEROUS SMALL BUILDING STRIKES.

Baboon Park, Mass., Aug. 20. (Special.)—A recent strike record shows now an average of 44 strikes a month as compared with only 35 last month but 49 a year ago at this time. Of these strikes, New England showed 15, Central States 9, South 4, Middle West 12, Rockies and the Pacific Coast 1 and Canada 3. Many of the strikes are in the Building Trades—small; fifteen out of the 44 to be more exact, and involving plumbers, carpenters, electrical workers, plasterers, hodcarriers, laborers and whatnot.

Yet we find on glancing back over the past few years, that the tendency of wage rates in the building trades has been to go steadily higher ever since the year 1922. That was the lowest year, but the past three years of 1923-24-25 each saw better wages than the previous year, and all of them were better than any of the years 1920-21-22.

The only gasoline

PROTECTING the quality of a gasoline is a difficult problem. Gasoline is colorless, and to the average motorist all gasolines look alike. Substitution is an easy matter. Especially when the quality of a gasoline is as high as that of Tydol, the risk of substitution looms big.

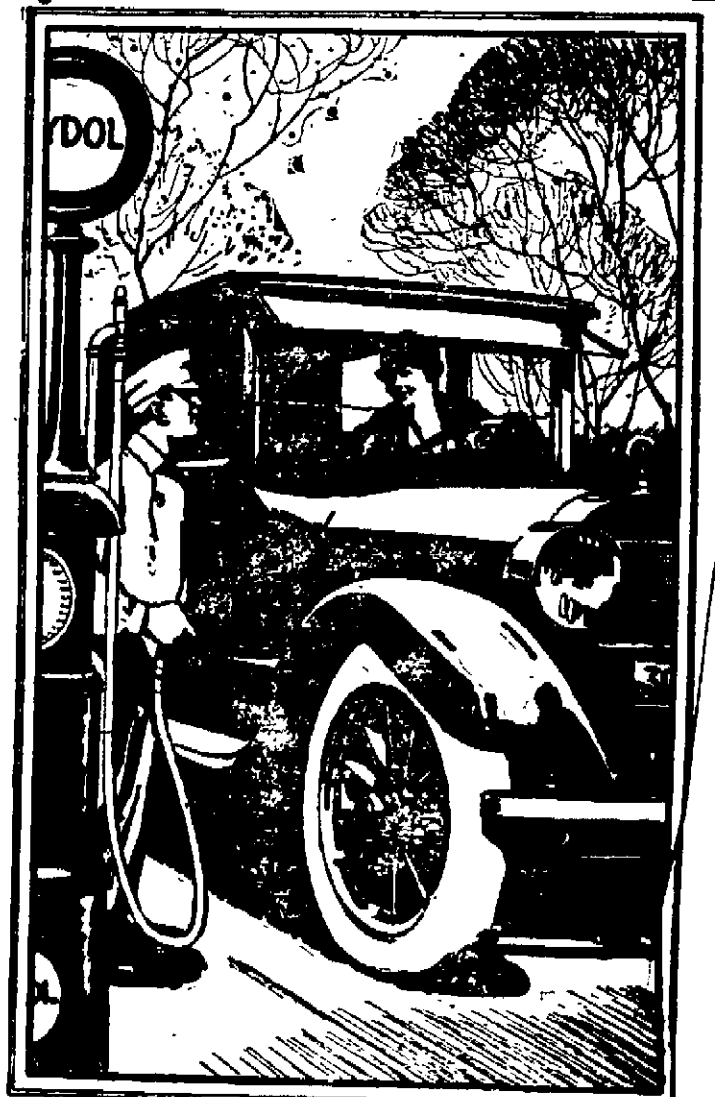

In New York City, for example, such dishonest substitution did take place—on a large scale. So-called "bootleg gasoline"—cheap, third-rate stuff was unloaded on the public through pumps plainly labelled with the trademarks of well-known quality gasolines.

Such a condition was intolerable to Tide Water, and to the Tydol dealers. To end the fraud which was being practiced on the public, a method of sealing Tydol pumps was devised so that Tydol and nothing but Tydol could be sold from a Tydol pump.

ferior gasolines being substituted for Tydol. They believe that the high quality of Tydol deserves the seal of protection.

Therefore, a seal has been affixed on the intake pipe of every underground tank which feeds a Tydol pump. This seal is only broken when the dealer's tank is being filled with Tydol. Then the intake pipe is immediately resealed and remains sealed until the pump again needs to be refilled. Only genuine Tydol can enter a Tydol tank; only genuine Tydol can flow from the pump.

When you buy Tydol you get Tydol
Stop at the nearest Tydol dealer. Ask him to show you the seal that assures you that you get Tydol when you pay for Tydol. Your dealer is proud of his Tydol seal. And proud of Tydol, the only gasoline sold under a seal of protection.

Brooklyn Royals Here on Sunday For Two Games

Colored Team Will Play at Fair Grounds For First Time This Year—Have Made Impressive Record So Far This Year—First Game Will Start at Two o'clock—Mackmen May Come.

The Brooklyn Royals, one of the best colored teams in baseball today, will meet the Colonials of this city in a doubleheader at the Fair grounds on Sunday afternoon. This will be the first time this year that this club has appeared here. The first game will be called at two o'clock.

The Royals have made a very impressive record so far this year in metropolitan semi-pro ball circles. They are probably the fastest aggregation of semi-pro ball players that the Colonials have met outside of the Havana Cubans. The Royals have two wins to their credit over the fast Bay Ridge team and have won twice from the Bushwicks of Brooklyn. They have played four games with the Doherty Silk Sox and have won two and lost two of these contests.

As the Colonials have been idle for the past week Manager Phelps will be able to call any one of his hurlers on Sunday. Art Smith, the Colonial ace, will undoubtedly pitch one of the games while McMarra is likely to receive the assignment for the other contest.

On Thursday Booking Manager Lou Brown received a telegram from the Philadelphia Athletics saying that they would let him know by Monday whether or not they would be able to play in this city on Sunday September 6. He also received word from Detroit that Ty Cobb does not allow his club to play any exhibition contests and that they therefore could not come to Kingston.

ROUNDOUT A. C. WIN SECOND GAME FROM MYSTIC CLUB

The Roundout A. C. defeated the Mystics at the Athletic Field Thursday evening by a score of 9 to 3. Peters pitched for Roundout and won a fine game from start to finish, allowing only seven hits and striking out nine men. Chet Krom pitched for the circuit, sending Spiegel in, who had tripled ahead of him. McDaniel twirled for the losers and pitched well until the seventh when Roundout loaded the sacks. Hank Gagan then went in to pitch and was thrown for three hits and four runs.

Sunday Roundout travel to Gardiner to play the team representing that village. Monday evening at Block Park the K. G. & E. team at Block Park. Friday evening the Mystics will be the attraction at Block Park.

SOME BOXERS DIDN'T ARRIVE AT FAIR GROUNDS

The local promoters of the boxing bout at the Fair Grounds on Wednesday evening felt that an apology was due local fans because of the failure of four or five of the boxers who were on the card to show up.

Two of these boxers were booked to come here from Poughkeepsie and John Joe Colletti, who was to referee the bouts, and two others were scheduled to come from Newburgh. When the time for the bouts to take place arrived they were among the absentees. As yet the local management has received no explanation as to why they did not appear.

In order to make up for this slight the local managers will add two three bouts to the next card and at the same time the same price of admission will prevail.

Conclusion

After arriving safely to hold his title, the team is turning a straight forward in a ten-acre lot, the green young man finally said philosophically: "Well, as where you like. It's all got to be played."

FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 20th

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press.)

Little Bill Sherdel, knocked from the mound by Brooklyn on Tuesday, has kept the faith and today the St. Louis Cardinals are only four points behind the world champion Pirates.

Left-handed Bill gained revenge yesterday for that insult of earlier in the week and his teammates took up his cause with 14 safe punches that brought about a 6 to 2 conquest. It was Sherdel's sixth victory over the Dodgers in seven starts. With his eight-hit pitching he threw in a double and a single.

At the same time Pittsburgh could do not better than gain an even break with Philadelphia, losing the first 3 to 1 and taking the second 4 to 0. A home run by Al Nixon in the tenth inning of the opening contest downed the Pirates, but Emil Yde was in exceptional form in the second and granted only four hits for the shutout.

Chicago returned to power in the struggle for fourth position in the standing by turning back the Giants, 2 to 1, on four safeties. Sheriff Blake permitted ten blows but they caused little damage.

The Boston Red Sox, outclassed but ever fighting, recorded their sixth straight victory, beating Chicago, 1 to 0, when Bill Munnefeld erred in the tenth after Jacobson's double. Wingfield was strong in the pinches, Chicago failing to score on eight singles.

The Philadelphia Athletics went in to a tie with Cleveland for second place in the American League when Gray and Willis gave Detroit a home run and three singles. The score was 9 to 1 and Frank O'Rourke, seldom classed as a slugger, was the man who made the circuit blow. Metzler, who has replaced the suspended Al Simmons in the Mack outfield, produced three hits, all singles.

Correggio's Odd Death

The death of Correggio, the great Italian painter who lived in the early part of the sixteenth century, is alleged to have been caused by his having to carry home a sum of money due him for a picture he had painted, and paid in copper coins to humiliate and annoy him. The painter carried the money some twenty miles on a hot day, to save the expense of hiring a conveyance. The consequent exhaustion led to a breakdown that ended in his death.

Composition of Grenadine

Grenadine is made from the pomegranate. The juice, when cooked with an equal amount of sugar, produces a beautiful red-colored syrup, which is greatly improved by the addition of a little lemon syrup. This serves to bring out the aromatic flavor and increase the acidity. A syrup of this nature constituted the original grenadine syrup, much used in Europe in the preparation of soft drinks.

Scoring Lawn Tennis

In the early days of lawn tennis two methods of scoring were used, almost indiscriminately. One of these was the scoring used in the game of "rackets" and the other the "tennis" scoring. In 1878 the "tennis" method of scoring was adopted and the "rackets" scoring abandoned. No material change in the method of scoring has been made since 1878.

Greeks Are Philanthropists

In Greece the wealthy men make gifts to the nation and leave legacies to civic enterprises in a way that outshines the rich men of any other nation in Europe. This is due partly to the native desire of the Greeks to improve themselves and to transfer that eagerness to corporate affairs.

Vitaminic Content of Bread

At least the vitaminic content of bread is very low. If white flour and water are used, vitamin B is present. If white flour and milk are used, vitamins A, B and perhaps C are present. If whole wheat flour and milk are used, more of vitamins A and B and some of vitamin C are present.

SUCCESS OF LEFTY GROVE THIS YEAR

Old-Timers Reminded of Case of Marquard.

Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove of Philadelphia, A. L., has arrived at last. Some of the baseball critics are calling him another Rube Waddell. This pitcher from the port side has beaten the Yankees four times this year. That's enough, it seems, to put him on a pedestal with the best left-handed pitchers of the game—such as southpaw "Big Boy" Waddell, Eddie Plank, Rube Marquard and Eppa Rixey. His record of earned runs per game is the best in either league this season and far better than his record of games won and lost.

On the former his sudden prominence rests. He was off to a bad start and fortune frowned with back turned, not once but several times. Grove is one of the four baseball players who changed clubs for $100,000 or over. Babe Ruth, of course, holds the record. The New York Yankees paid the Boston Red Sox $137,500 for the slugging outfielder. Holme Groh cost the Giants in the neighborhood of $120,000, while the Chicago White Sox paid $100,000 for Willie Kamm.

Connie Mack is authority for the statement that the Athletics gave the Baltimore club $100,000 for Lefty Grove late in 1924. For a time this sensation of the international league looked like a poor investment. He was an in-and-outer last season, mixing up good streaks with bad streaks. This year the judgment of Connie Mack is being justified. It is too early, it seems, to rank him with such pitchers as Rube Waddell and Eddie Plank, but he is a rugged fellow, and in his left-handed way may yet deserve general recognition with the greatest and best.

When John J. McGraw paid $11,000 for Rube Marquard back in 1905 and $5,000 for Chief Myers, the catcher the baseball world rocked over the extravagance of the New York club. Such a price for a pitcher and a left-handed pitcher at that, was unheard of. John J. was charged with showing scant consideration for the funds in his control. For two years Marquard, like Grove, was up and down—mostly down—and fingers pointed to him as a horrible example of mistaken judgment and misguided zeal. But Rube Marquard eventually justified McGraw by developing into one of the best left-handed pitchers in the history of baseball. He repaid the Giants for the original outlay a hundredfold.

Golf Balls in Collision While Soaring in Air

An extraordinary golfing freak occurred in the match between the British Army society and St. Andrews played recently at St. Andrews. Colonel Howard and Lieut. Col. Buchanan Dunlop, while playing in the foursomes against J. Rodger and J. Mackie, hit full iron shots for their seconds on the sixteenth green. Each thought he had to play the ball first, and, hidden by a bunker, the two struck the balls simultaneously.

The balls, going toward the hole, met with such great force about twenty yards from the pin as to drop one on each side of the hole, five yards apart. Golf balls driven by players in opposite directions have been known to meet in midair, but this is the first occasion or record of balls coming in contact when hit by players going to the same hole.

Clubs Make Mistake to Lengthen Their Courses

Chick Evans says that golf clubs make a mistake in lengthening their courses for championships.

Scolts moved the tees back and stretched the course to more than 6,200 yards.

Golfers that can drive the ball a long way have a distinct advantage. The title hangs on tee shots. Those who can drive long and accurately will be in the lead.

"Long drives compel the fellows whose drives are not so long to over-punch and by over-punching they drive wild. You can see what disaster a wild drive brings you on this course," says Evans.

TETLEY A POSSIBILITY FOR VARSITY TEAM

Middletown, Conn., Aug. 20.—Sam Hill, Wesleyan University's head football coach, faces his second year at the college with quiet optimism.

Twelve of last year's letter men have graduated and two will be missing through ineligibility. The places of Captain Phillips and "Wick" Wieland, both of Philadelphia, and "Tootie" Boyd of Upper Montclair, N. J., will be the hardest to fill. Hill nevertheless will have ten veterans of the 1925 team to work with and also expects an exceptionally large number of promising sophomores to report for practice on September 9. Over 60 contenders will be on hand before the season opens on September 25 with Middlebury.

Wesleyan is better situated on the eligibility question than for several years past. Captain "Ken" Steele of Hartford and "Jerry" Lee of East Orange, N. J., ends, "Tony" Holden of Hartford, on the line, Roswell Douglass of Staten Island in the backfield, and Paul Hittenbender of Kingston, Pa., at quarterback, are available, as are also George Crowell of Walden, N. Y., next year's track captain, Jimmy Osborn of Kenosha, Wis., Jerry Bentley of Brooklyn, Homer McNutt of Saucus, Mass., and "Doc" Young of Pittsburgh, Pa., all dependable members of the 1925 squad.

Hill's best possibilities from the 1925 freshman teams are Harold Crax of South Olden Falls, N. Y., Eaton Luthin of Oak Park, Ill., Jack Jacobson of Lynbrook, N. Y., Fred Longacre of Yonkers, Robert Galtford of Hattiesburg, N. Y., and Irwin Smith of Northport, N. Y., on the line, Hammy Tetley of Kingston, N. Y., Cliff Adams of New Haven and Louis Mink of Colchester, Conn., half-backs, and Jack Taylor of Short Hills, N. J., at fullback.

The Cardinal and Black open their eight-game season at home with Middlebury, a new-comer on the schedule which follows:

September 25—Middlebury at Middletown.

October 2—Columbia at Middletown.

October 9—Columbia at New York.

October 16—Rochester at Rochester, N. Y.

October 22—Amherst at Middletown.

October 29—Trinity at Hartford.

November 4—Williams at Williamsburg.

November 12—Dowdoin at Middletown.

French Invaders To Fight Tonight

Bouts Which Were Postponed Earlier in Week Will Take Place Tonight—Dundee and Bretonnel in Feature Match.

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—Fred Bretonnel, of France, who claims the lightweight and welterweight championships of Europe, tonight meets the veteran Johnny Dundee of New York in the 10 round feature clash of Humbert Fugazy's benefit boxing program at Ebbets Field.

The Bretonnel-Dundee bout appears to have superseded the meeting between Paul Berlenbach and Francois Charles in interest, for this is expected to be a real "grudge" affair with Dundee endeavoring to show the fans that he did not "run out" of a contest with the same man in Paris.

Berlenbach, former light-heavyweight champion, is tackling the champion of Europe at the weight and has trained hard for the battle. Charles, like most of the French pugilists, saw military service throughout the war. This bout is scheduled for ten rounds.

Drivers to Race At Ellenville

Among the auto racing drivers who will take part in the auto racing on the last day of the Ellenville fair are "Chick" Lipsett, F. E. Ruger, Edward Sheeley, Levi Jansen and Martin Barrow of Wallkill and William Besmer and George Brayer of Walden. Mr. Besmer has been in Ellenville Sunday conferring with the fair officials and they stated they were willing to make the purses more liberal and named figures that were satisfactory. The auto races will be staged Friday, August 27.

Last Night's Fights

New York—Tiger Flowers, Georgia Negro, world's middleweight champion, retained his title, being awarded the judge's decision over Harry Greb, Pittsburgh former titleholder, 15 rounds. K. O. Phil Kaplan, New York, middleweight, knocked out Dick Evans, Philadelphia, two rounds. Mark Noon Bloom, New York, middleweight, won decision over Chuck Burns, San Antonio, 10 rounds. Tommy Finney, New York, middleweight, lost decision over Joe Lockhart, Elmira, Ind., four rounds.

Chicago—Midget Smith, New York, lightweight, and Archie Billo, also of New York, boxed a draw, 10 rounds. Ever Hammer, Chicago lightweight, won referee's decision over Ted Ball, St. Paul, 10 rounds.

Cleveland—Johnny Date, Cleveland featherweight, won newspaper decision over Willie Ames, Akron, 10 rounds. Floyd Hybert, Cleveland lightweight, knocked out Johnny Mendenhall, Milwaukee, eight rounds.

Flowers Packs A Mean Punch

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—Tiger Flowers, Atlanta negro, remains middleweight boxing champion of the world after a sensational 15 round struggle with the man from whom he took the crown, Harry Greb, of Pittsburgh.

Flowers made good his defense in Madison Square Garden last night before 15,000 persons but did not receive the unanimous vote of the officials. Referee Jimmy Crowley favored Greb.

Eleanor Gunn On Fashions

The Animated Silhouette, Having Flattered into Prominence, Continues to Provide Charming Movement, Especially in Diaphanous Materials.

Because we are living in an age of almost perpetual motion, designers have given their imagination free rein and have evolved various silhouettes which suggest motion rather than repose.

Evening frocks, especially, flutter and fly about by reason of various wing draperies, of capelets, tiers and scarfs. Circular treatments and fullness, which is the result of clever pleating, are other factors in creating effective frocks. Skirts almost without exception suggest width and waist-lines.

There seems to be no substitute for chiffon—indeed, why should one forsake anything capable of so many, many treatments? The union of chiffon and velvet is hardly less important than that of chiffon with lace, and favor seems about equally divided between untrimmed frocks of supple crepes and rather elaborately trimmed ones, gleaming with beading or flashing with paillettes. Nacre spangles are charmingly used, and so are the more glaring of trimmings. Rhinestones and pearls continue in friendly rivalry.

Perhaps the most important trimming just now is fringe, either of the graceful, long, silk type or the more hackneyed crystal genre. One rarely finds a well-balanced wardrobe without at least one fringed gown, and it seems likely to be either Chanel red, black, or white.

Beading occurs, not so much in all-over effects as in interesting motifs, used to accent some detail, often a drapery, or the position of the waist-line.

How Women

Now keep fresh, charming under trying hygienic conditions

THE uncertainty and insecurity of the old-time "sanitary pad" has been ended. Scientific protection now supplies it.

Wear sheer gowns, keep up with social and business requirements, at all times... without hindrance.

"KOTEX" is a new and remarkable way... five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads.

Absorbs and discharges at the same time. Thus ending ALL fear of offending.

You discard it as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You get it for a few cents at any drug or department store simply by saying "KOTEX." Women ask for it without hesitancy.

Try Kotex. Comes in 12 in a package. Proves old ways an unnecessary risk.

KOTEX

There is no flower as popular for a corsage as the carnation. The dark, almost clover color, and Chanel red carnations are very smart, and so are white ones.

Another very fashionable French corsage, also worn here, is made of simple field flowers, ragged sailors, poppies, daisies, and clover.

Chiffon is proving the leading fabric of the summer.

Crowns which are telescoped, creased, and indented, are now being draped well toward the back by those who follow the lead of Parisiennes.

Silver lame and turquoise blue is a combination seen these sultry nights at Southampton, where so many of the smart set are spending a few weeks.

The newest jumpers end in a straight band which ties in front at the left, low enough for the jumper to blouse above the band. These are often opened to disclose the cambric sole top of the pleated skirt with which they are worn.

Shark skin purses are carried by very smart folks. Shark belts and shoes are also worn.

In the trousseaux of the smartest brides, lingerie is characterized by the abundance of rich laces. In nearly every instance, very deep, colored lace is used, no matter what color of crepe or chiffon it trims.

A smart woman lunching recently in the Japanese Garden of the Ritz was stunning in Vionnet's so-called "nun's dress", a straight sheath of dull black crepe, with separate sleeves of white, and large collar and jabot of white.

Although the enormous hat is the success of the summer season in America, it is rather less popular in and around Paris. Felts continue to be worn there, with the exception of the shadowy capeline of hair braid, reserved usually for the occasions that warrant flowered chiffon.

The velvet coat has been revived, but it is shorter than when the vogue swept the country hardly more than two seasons ago.

Gay flowered prints are seen everywhere, and pastel chiffons in jumper effects also register.

One smart woman recently wore two ropes of pearls, looped to the left shoulder and caught there by a large carnation.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

(© 1926, Western Newspaper Union.)

"The pity of it is that, so far as we are concerned, most of the beauty of this world goes to waste. We have no time to look at it or enjoy it."

FOOD COMBINATIONS

There is no law but the law of taste which governs the foods that "go together."

For the kind of food served depends upon whether you are an oriental or an occidental.

The tastes of people determine the food combination. It is a study which is both an art and a science.

We may come to thrive on one kind of food, but we find that two or three are better as they are better digested and the body seems to keep up its activities with less waste.

When we go above the number of three or four we find trouble, which is worse for the digestion than the monotony of one food.

The body should be treated as a well-regulated furnace which is fed at intervals, not stuffed with the day's allowance which will choke the fires through imperfect combustion; thus we will be intelligent in the choice and care of food.

When we overeat we waste good fuel and overwork the furnace; if we are undernourished the furnace cannot give off heat or supply energy.

The three-fold principle which we find supply the body in the best possible manner are protein, meat, fat, eggs and milk; fats which are obtained from butter, cream, nuts, carbohydrates or sugars and starches represented by sugar, rice and potatoes.

To see that these three principles are included in each meal in proper proportion we have what is called a well-balanced meal. It has been found that as good results obtain if the food is balanced for the three meals, perhaps more of one food principle is used for one meal and none or little of the next, thus keeping the proportion right.

There are those who are sensitive to certain foods or combinations which others enjoy with comfort. This is owing to some peculiarity of the body machine; of course these things should be avoided. Happy is he who is normal and able to eat, digest, assimilate and enjoy all kinds of the good foods provided by our all-wise Creator.

News of the Day In Wall Street

(By The Associated Press)
New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—Indications that other railroad interests may be angling for control of the Chicago and Alton are seen in reports that a new banking group has obtained a dominant position in the road's 3 1/2 per cent bonds. The transfer of holdings has taken place while ineffectual efforts were being made to bring the various Alton security owners together on a reorganization plan.

Stockholders of Pierce Arrow Motor Car Company will vote September 10 on a proposed increase in authorized common stock to 500,000 shares and an issue of a new class of 40,000 shares at 7 per cent convertible second preferred stock $100 par, under a plan to liquidate accumulated dividends on the 8 per cent preferred amounting to $40 a share.

Net power output of the American Water Works and Electric Company for the first seven months this year aggregated 831,848,657 kilowatt hours, an increase of 12 1/2 per cent over the same period last year.

Miller Rubber Company reports net profit of $744,101 for the first half of 1926 equal after dividend requirements on the 8 per cent preferred, to 35 cents a share on the common.

Marland Oil Company has completed a well in Mexico with initial flow of 2,500 barrels and Mexican Petroleum Company has brought in two, one flowing 2,500 barrels and the other 2,000.

Union Oil Company of California is reported to be considering plans to build a refinery at Barnett, N. C., costing $1,500,000.

Surplus of the Rutland Railroad for the first half of 1926 was $196,736, equal to $2.19 a share on the preferred against $62,494 or 69 cents a share on the preferred in the first half of 1925.

Members of the New York Cotton Exchange will vote next Monday on a proposal to close the Exchange on Saturday, September 4, for a three day recess over Labor Day.

Gasoline consumption in June compiled by the American Petroleum Institute from statistics available in 30 states amounted to 366,608,000 gallons, an increase of 50,191,000 gallons over June last year. For the half year these states used 1,845,288,000 gallons, a gain of 228,629,000 gallons or 14 1/2 per cent over the same period of 1925.

Giant Negro Shot Dead at Hudson

George Jackson, a giant negro, was shot on Thursday morning about 5 o'clock in an alley in the rear of No. 254 Columbia street, Hudson. The man met death when three .23 calibre bullets were sent through his head by an assailant after a row that took place in the dark passageway.

William Devine, another colored man who worked with the murdered man at the Atlas Cement plant, is being held by the police, who claim that he will be able to cast much light on the murder. Sergeant Carbine, of the Hudson police, claims that there is enough evidence to hold Devine in connection with the shooting.

It is known that Devine and Jackson, who were on the night shift at the plant, had quarreled before they quit work about 4 o'clock in the morning. The two had ridden to town together in a taxi.

Devine admitted having the trouble with Jackson but denies that he was connected with the shooting.

Found Drowned At South Rondout

Superintendent Donald McIntyre of the Central Dredging Company of Chicago, Missing Since Monday Found in Creek at South Rondout.

Superintendent Donald McIntyre of the Central Dredging Company of Chicago, Ill., who has been missing since Monday night, was found drowned today in the Rondout creek off the Hittelant shipyard at South Rondout. The body was discovered floating in the water off the shipyard by some of the employees of the yard. It was towed to the dock and Coroner W. Norman Conner notified.

The Central Dredging Company has been having some work done at the Hittelant yard and Superintendent McIntyre was here on business connected with the concern. His home is in Chicago. He was last seen alive some time Monday evening, and as he failed to appear at the shipyard on Tuesday the local police department were informed of his continued absence and asked to search for him.

It is evident that McIntyre in some manner fell overboard the night he was last seen alive and was drowned.

"The Mollusc" in Period Costume

The fifth and last play to be presented by the Elverhoj Players at Milton will be "The Mollusc," a comedy by Hubert Henry Davis. It will open Monday, August 23, and play every night next week. This is the closing bill of the Elverhoj season.

The play was written around 1905 but is built up about a character so universal that it is the same today, yesterday and tomorrow, that is, the hypochondria. But to add to the comedy, the players have decided to do the play in the costume of the period. Attires have been rummaged in Milton, Marlborough and Highland and the colony is gay with gored skirts, bishop sleeves and high boned collars.

"Tea for Three," the fourth play of the season will be presented for evening performances tonight and Saturday. There will be no matinee on Saturday.

Water

Absolutely pure water is completely tasteless, consisting as it does only of two tasteless and odorless gases. In fact, absolutely pure water is also invisible and we are only aware of it by feeling it. One reason, of course, why we can't taste it is that our own bodies are very largely composed of water, and that the cells with which we taste are, therefore, aware of no "foreign body" with pure water.

In practice, however, perfectly pure water only exists when distilled by the chemist. Our ordinary water has either come through perhaps miles of earth, picking up all sorts of salts on the way, while if it is direct rain water, it is heavily charged with dust and dirt from the air.

Modifies Order Against Strikers

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 20 (AP).—A modified injunction against striking members of the typographical union was granted today by Judge Morsan Owen to two Charleston newspapers, the Daily Mail and the Gazette.

Judge Owen granted that part of the injunction dealing with intimidation in picketing. He refused to enjoin alleged interference with newsboys and advertisers, holding that no evidence had been presented to show any such acts.

The union men went on strike when they failed to reach a new agreement with the papers. The publishers then announced operations on an open shop basis.

Plattsburg, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP).—President William Green and the executive council of the American Federation of Labor were initiated into army camp life today.

As guests of the war department during a five day tour of inspection of the Plattsburg Military Training Camp, the labor men turned out of the army barracks at six o'clock this morning when reveille sounded. All were apparently enjoying their first taste of camp life and seemed to relish the savor of the regulation army mess at breakfast of which they partook at long benches beside the "rookies."

After breakfast, the visitors, under escort of Major-General C. P. Summerall, commanding the Second Corps Area, and Colonel J. H. Hughes, commander of the Plattsburg post, made a tour of inspection of the camp. There was no deviation from the routine duties of the camp.

Later, the troops were reviewed by the visitors.

Hall Defense to Fight for Bail

Council Will Ask Court to Release Suspects on Bail—Simpson Will Fight Move and Will Ask Court
Doesn't Want Secret Hearings.

Somerville, N. J., Aug. 20 (AP).—The Hall-Mills murder case, today had received itself into a struggle between opposing attorneys over the location of bail for the three charged with the murder of the New Brunswick motorist and his wife.

Attorney for Henry de la Hoya and Crispender and William Stevens, Jr. and here awaiting the action of the grand jury have announced that they will apply Monday for the removal of the case to federal court in New York City.

The defense application will be made before Chief Justice Hughes in the supreme court at Newark.

Stevens and Crispender to jail yesterday.

When Senator Simpson learned that the application would be made "in chambers" he said he would oppose that, too, because he thinks all matters in the case should be argued in open court.

Incriminating Pistol Story

Inspector John Underwood, of the City police, said today that the bullets which killed the Rev. Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills could not have been fired from a Spanish pistol, which was turned over to Philadelphia police by William Winter's chauffeur.

The pistol was brought here today by Lieutenant Walter Cleburn of Jersey City.

Winter told police he found the pistol in a hotel room in October 1922, after he heard two men and two women arguing about a gun.

Along with the gun he found a New Brunswick newspaper.

"The Woman" Tells Messages.

Lillian Brown, who lives near Mrs. Jane Gilman, the "woman" suspected at state police headquarters today and said she had received telephone messages last night and early today telling her to go to headquarters. State police denied they had called her.

New Gibson identified Crispender

and Stevens as the two men she saw with Mrs. Hall the night of the crime near where the bodies were found.

Inspector Underwood said a few persons would be interviewed over the week end but that he did not think anything of importance would develop.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 20 (AP).—Selling pressure against the standard Industrials was renewed in today's stock market, which showed alternate periods of weakness and strength. U. S. Steel common broke to 149 1/2, or about ten points below the high established earlier in the week, on the announcement that the steel industry was operating below 80 per cent of capacity this week for the first time in several months.

The break in steel which took place around the noon hour, followed an early period of strength during which pools were again active in a number of specialties in which favorable merger or dividend developments are believed to be pending. Supporting orders quickly made their appearance and the market was again started upward in the early afternoon. A possible foundation of the recent selling movement was seen today on the report that William C. Durant, automobile manufacturer, who is reported to have been actively engaged in the buying of General Motors and U. S. Steel in the last few months, was selling for Europe next week, Wall Street taking it for granted that he was reducing his stock market commitments prior to his departure.

Good buying was again noted in the railroad equipment shares, several new orders for signal and train control devices being announced during the day.

Despite the forecast of record breaking July earnings statements for some of the leading class one carriers, the rails lost ground with the Industrials, Chesapeake and Ohio and Atchafalaya, two of the recent strong spots being the hardest hit in the first wave of selling in that group.

Palace "Outrigger Farm"
The white and gold room in Rockingham palace in which ladies about to be presented at court sit in rows, has been irreverently named by junior members of the royal household as the "outrigger farm." The reason is that hundreds of ostrich feathers have been counted in the room while the women were awaiting presentation in the throne room. Some wore as many as three big feathers.

Giraffe's Water Supply
The giraffe is believed to exist for three-quarters of the year in North Kalahari without water. But this cannot be proved until the desert has been explored. There is known to be water beneath the surface, and if the giraffe does live waterless, he must have his liquid nutriment at second hand in the juices of the leaves of a tree which have their roots in a moisture.

Needful Charity
A rich man without charity is a fool, and perhaps it would be no difficult matter to prove that he also is a fool—Fiddling.

GOOD ROADS

IMMENSE AMOUNT FOR RURAL ROADS

Reliable estimates indicate that the United States will spend more than $1,000,000,000 on the building and maintenance of rural roads during the year 1926.

This means the disappearance of the "rube" from American life. You may be able to find him on the stage, in vaudeville, in the movies, or between the pages of alleged humorous magazines, but not on the farms, says the Minneapolis Daily Star.

The "rube" is a product of isolation and the spending of $1,000,000,000 for the rural roads means an end of isolation. The American farmer from now on lives on a main traveled highway.

When the day's work is done he is only a few miles away from entertainment. If he prefers to sit by his own fireside he may read his daily paper delivered by the rural routes, get his daily market reports over the radio, or listen to the best music and lectures that America can offer anyone.

His children are seldom more than 20 minutes away from an excellent high school. There they are being trained in all the social graces, taught the fundamental principles of culture and living a life as broad and beautiful as that enjoyed by any of the city children. On commencement day it is impossible to distinguish between the youths from the farms and those from the city.

The co-operative marketing associations have taught him the art of working with other men. The good road makes it possible for him to attend frequent meetings, participate in the discussions and become a part of the busy world of thinking and action.

Rural roads put him in easy touch with distant markets. If his local merchant cannot supply him with the goods he wants, a couple of hours' drive will bring him to a city of 20,000 or more where he can buy anything he wants.

The modern farmer is not easily imposed upon. He is a poor customer for gold-brick merchants. Bankers' figures show that the average city dweller is much the easier victim of the con man.

Improved rural roads mean consolidated schools, less loss in crops, advantageous marketing. The hard-surfaced road has done much to give the American farmer his opportunity as a business man.

It is true that the rural church has had hard sledding, but the farmer can reach the village or city church with greater ease over good roads than he could get to the rural church a few years ago through the mud.

Good roads make good citizens. The election booth is seldom more than five minutes away from the kitchen door, and the farmer is voting, and rapidly learning his political lessons. One billion of dollars spent for rural roads means that the American farmer is now living as close to the world as the city dweller. He no longer lives alone, astride his plow. He is on a highway where "the race of men go by."

Center-Road Hog Menace to Traffic on Highways

One of the greatest menaces to traffic on the streets, the boulevards and even on the country highways is the slow driver cruising down the center of the thoroughfare. That this is the case is attested by hundreds of letters to the American Automobile association.

"The rules of the road" require all slow-moving traffic—whether passenger automobile, truck or bus—to keep to the right near the curb. This rule is violated every day, and all the time. Everywhere may be found the slow traveler, creeping down the middle of the driveway, blocking traffic and actually endangering the lives of others.

"Can't you do anything about the man who has the 'middle of the road' complex?" is the complaint of so many letters reaching us that it looks as if the road hog will never learn.

Good Time for Action

The present generation has a right to expect the building of improved highways—which in the last analysis are the most economical. It requires no great amount of argument to prove that a hard-surfaced highway will not cost as much to maintain as a gravel road does. There is considerable difference in the expense, and no good reason why the auto owner should not have the benefit of the saving that paved highways are certain to bring about. It is the time for action.—Mankato (Minn.) Free Press.

Good Roads Facts

Kansas will have 5,640 miles of paved highways in 1926, according to Walter Van Hook, state highway engineer.

Any person found guilty of throwing glass or other trash substances upon highways in New Jersey is subject to a fine of $100 to $200.

Cock Has Many Names

The true cock of Maryland and Kentucky is the same cock of New Jersey and the cock of Louisiana. If this is confusing to the reader, just call it a woodcock, his proper name for the cock are verminous.

Lots of Liquor Down South

Says Prohibition Administrator for Carolinas and Georgia, Who Attacks Washington Authorities for Cutting His Force—Washington Replies to His Complaint.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 20 (AP).—Blaming the "policy" of Washington authorities in cutting his forces, Ben C. Sharpe, federal prohibition administrator for the Carolinas and Georgia, has issued a statement declaring "there is more liquor in North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia now than there has been in the past three years."

Rum running, he said, has shifted from the mountains to the seaboard and Florida and Georgia "are sending more liquor up the coast and overland by automobile than ever before."

The administrator said the increased traffic was the natural result of what he was formerly an ample federal force for one state.

The statement of Sharpe was issued after one to the contrary had been made by M. O. Dunning, a personal representative of General Andrews.

Washington Replies to Sharpe.

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP).—Prohibition officials here today replied to the complaint of Ben Sharpe, administrator for the Carolinas and Georgia, with a demand that he develop greater co-ordination between the state and federal forces.

There were definite hints that he would be called upon also explain some of his references to the present liquor situation in his district.

James Jones, director of prohibition, said there had been reductions in the federal forces in all areas where effective state enforcement laws were in force.

"We must depend a great deal on the states," Jones said. "We have got to concentrate our forces in New York and other states which have no enforcement acts or which are lax."

Bill of Rights

The bill of rights in England is the name commonly given to the act declaring the rights and liberties of the subjects and settling the succession of the crown, 1689, which embodied the declaration of rights drawn up by a committee of the commons and presented to William Prince of Orange and his wife, afterward William III and Queen Mary. The bill of rights is the nearest approach to a written constitution which the United Kingdom possesses.

Support for Grapevines

The bureau of plant industry says that copper wire may be used to support grapevines. While the copper wire is more expensive at first, some believe that it is cheaper in the long run, as it endures longer than galvanized iron, which is used more universally. The galvanized iron wire needs to be removed in about three years. No. 10-wire is the size which is used for vineyard trellis.

Discuss Spread Of Plant Disease

Various Plans Suggested at International Congress of Plant Sciences—Evolution Again Enters Into Discussion.

Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP).—The International Congress of Plant Sciences today had under consideration the problems of preventing the spread of plant diseases.

One group advocated a central international bureau for the exchange of information, another urged the different countries to enforce laws against the introduction of foreign parasites, and a third advocated national standards of excellence for plant products imported or exported.

Dr. E. Van Sloter of the Netherlands, suggested organization of phytopathological research along international lines to check transportation of plant parasites, diseases, and insect pests.

Dr. V. T. Vouk, of Jugo-Slavia, touched on evolution in telling the physiology section there was no authentic ground for the belief of older scientists that vegetable life found in warm spring waters represent the first plant organisms on earth, as he had found them to be variations of vegetation in cold waters.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

Bloody Point, Md.—Perhaps was Miss Ruth Kitchin, 14, will try the channel next. She has just swam Chesapeake Bay like Lillian Cannon did. It took her 8 1/2 hours to come 9 1/2 miles from Annapolis, as the crew files, but she covered about 20 miles because of tides.

Cincinnati—All the Kelleys, Dave Bancroft has known well were good Kelleys—King, Joe and George; and so Dave, a guest in court, got his friend the judge to release one Harry Kelly, who had been fielding high balls.

Newburgh, N. Y.—Lots of folks won bets on Harvard's football team when Ham Fish was a star tackle. It remains to be seen whether he can win a bet himself. He offers to wager $100 that no Republican candidate on the state ticket is elected unless the party has a dry plank.

Philadelphia—Sunday baseball is a good thing, in the opinion of Connie Mack. The crowd is a bit different from week days, it dresses better and does not improve the players. He gave his views to a judge when his club was seeking an injunction against interference with Sunday games.

New York—Russell C. Medcraft and Jean May once played husband and wife in "Golden Days." Now they are married, but they are to be independent of each other professionally. He's not to star in plays he writes. The author of "Cradle Snatchers" became the husband of the leading lady of "The Poor Nut" at a hurried ceremony performed by a judge in the Portchester police station at four a. m.

Madison, Conn.—Here's a modern society girl who wore bustles at her wedding. When Miss Helen Jenkins became Mrs. Edward Calhoun Smith she had a gown of ivory tulle with two butterfly bustles in the back and a circular train. It was the bridal attire of an aunt many years ago.

Camden, Maine—Brownie, wonder Ayshire who has given 18,666 quarts of milk, is on a 10,000 mile trip to be exhibited, going as far as Portland, Ore. The whole town and a brass band saw her off.

New York—Fannie Hurst has sympathy for wronged geniuses whom the world ignores, though they are nuisances. A good lady in Los Angeles who is suing her for $500,000 for plagiarism, Fannie says is only one of hundreds who feel likewise aggrieved. She gets complaints in the mail daily.

Cremona, Italy—Because dance halls in the suburbs expose the faithful to "insidious perils," Bishop Casani has forbidden out door religious festivals.

New York—There's to be a dinner to Daniel Frohman, for which 132 guests will pay $1,000.41 each. The cents are for the dinner and the dollars for an actors' benevolent fund.

Mistletoe. The European mistletoe grows on many kinds of trees, particularly the apple and its close relatives, the service and hawthorn; sometimes, also, on sycamores, limes, poplars, locust trees and fir, but rarely on oaks (contrary to the common belief). Shears Identified

Garden shears, which earlier witnesses testified might have been used to mutilate the body of Mrs. Eleanor Mills after she and Rev. Edward Hall were murdered, were identified as coming from the home of Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall by Peter Tumulty, Hall chauffeur. He was questioned by the prosecutor.

PROTEST AGAINST EASE IN SECURING FREEDOM.

The Orange County Chicken Thief Detecting Society at its meeting in Montgomery, Orange county, on August 16, adopted resolutions addressed to the State Crime Commission requesting it to continue its efforts to improve criminal laws so as to aid law enforcement, and that it make an effort to change the criminal laws so as to make it less easy for persons convicted of crime to obtain freedom on bail pending appeal from the judgment of conviction rendered against them.

The case of the People against Robert Duffy was discussed by the society. He had been recently caught in the act of stealing chickens from the farm of Clarence Crist in the town of Montgomery. His made a confession and pleaded guilty before a justice of the peace to petty larceny and was sentenced to ninety days in the county jail and to pay a fine of $50 and was immediately released on bail by Special County Judge Henry B. Merritt, pending an appeal to the county court. The alleged grounds of the appeal were that Duffy's constitutional rights had been violated and that the justice had no jurisdiction. The members were of the opinion that the proper place for Duffy was in jail and that the laws which permitted an obviously guilty person to be immediately released from his sentence were a farce, says the Citizen Herald of Wallingford.

The appeal will be argued before Judge Wiggins on August 25, and a number of the farmers from that section are expected to attend the hearing on the appeal.

CATSKILL-PALENTVILLE ROAD WORK PROGRESSING.

The work on the state highway between Catskill and Palenville is progressing rapidly and steps have been taken to expedite the pavement of the thoroughfare.

It is reported that David Schoenfar, Inc., of Saugerties, who took over the contract from the Garrison Construction Company, which subcontracted the grading to the Shapiro Construction Co., had turned over four miles of the paving from Palenville toward Catskill, to the Furber Gill Co. The rest of the road will be completed by the Saugerties contractors.

This will greatly expedite the paving of the highway and it is possible that the road will be thrown open to the public not later than early in the spring. Mr. Schoenfar said recently that he would try to have the paving finished this winter, if the weather conditions were favorable.

Several dangerous curves have been eliminated and some of the grades have been reduced. To make the highway more adequate for the demands placed upon it, additional land had to be acquired, some being purchased and several parcels taken through condemnation proceedings.

Danger in Bullfighting.

The bullfight is a very dangerous fighting game, according to the best authorities. The star of the performance is the matador, who kills the bull alone. Authorities give no facts to prove that many matadors are killed, and all are wounded at some time of their careers. The risks they take are enormous. They sit on chairs before charging bulls, and at the last moment spring from the chair and the bull carries the chair away on his horns. They rest their elbows on the head of the bull. The matador sometimes attempts to leap over the bull with the aid of a long pole, but many matadors are made, which can be disaster. There are even rare occasions when a large bull will jump out of the ring and gain the arena occupied by the spectators. The matador, in hitting the bull, stands perfectly still and lets the bull rush on his sword, the bull often taking the matador up in his horns and throwing him into the air. Many times the matador is caught up against the wooden barrier ring and gored to death.

Market for Fruit And Vegetables

New York, Aug. 20 (AP).—State big Boston lettuce values ranged widely on the local wholesale district today. Trading was fairly active on stock which showed good quality and condition but extremely limited on offerings which were tip burnt, slimy, or otherwise defective. Crates of two dozen heads, from Oswego county peddled out at 175@250 on the finest and from 35@125 on the inferior. New York state's carload shipments of lettuce to August 15, totalled 1663 cars, a decrease of 625 cars from the movement to the corresponding date last season.

Strictly fancy green peas sold readily but poor dragged. Arrivals were moderate and the market slightly stronger only for the very best. Madison county offerings brought as high as 400 and as low as 75 principally—per bushel basket. Colorado peas in crates of about 45 pounds sold within the price range of 500@700.

Larger supplies of onions trucked in from Orange county, New York, weakened the market and lower prices prevailed. The demand was moderate. Store business for 100 pound sacks of yellow onions was transacted principally around 225 and reds around 175.

The market for Hudson Valley Clapp's Favorite pears, dull and slightly weaker. Receipts were fairly liberal and the demand slow. Bushel hampers peddled out at 200 @225, occasionally 250 for the fanciest large and 150@175 for the ordinary. California Bartlett pears were again lower in price. Supplies were heavy. Approximately 40,000 boxes sold from 275@325 per box for the best green fruit and 220@275 for ordinary and ripe.

Up-state celery met a fair outlet with values and the market situation as a whole without decided change. Two-thirds crates of celery in the rough realized from 150@250, chiefly 200. Bunches stock ranged from 20 to 85 according to size.

Fancy firm-ripe tomatoes sold well and the market held firm under active trading. Carriers of six tillis from the Hudson Valley sold at 250@350 for the very best and 150 @200 for ordinary.

Receipts of state basket sour cherries were moderate. The demand as usual on Friday was limited with the market dull and values tending downward.

LAST NIGHT on THE RADIO

Although there was no static and reception in late afternoon and early evening was exceptionally loud, volume decreased at the time of "sunset fading" and did not come back fully. DX was generally weak, although WREO, WORD, WCBD, WTAM, WJAZ, WQJ and WCCO were heard.

Possibly less DX was received because the local programs were so good that little time was spent hunting for anything else.

The Fireale Boys at WJZ put on a program including such old time songs as "Good-by My Lover, Good-by," (without the local variations so popular about 40 years ago) and later WGY had the Harmony Twins with a range that went from "Sweet Genevieve" to "My Cutie's Due at Two Two Two Today."

Old Rag Dolls More Durable Than Pretty

In many of the early New England homes rag dolls were treasured heirlooms. They were of all sizes, and attired in all sorts of quaint costumes. The only points in common were that their faces were invariably flat, their hands stiff and rigid and their toes turned out in a "west-footed" manner. Sometimes they had black buttons for eyes, but more frequently their faces were painted with beet and fruit juices. However, their eyes, noses and mouths were sometimes embroidered. For hair they had toupces of yarn or hemp or small bunches of real hair. Their clothing was usually of the full-skirted variety and they sometimes wore sunbonnets of the same material as their dresses. One doll of this type is said to have pleased the daughters of one New Hampshire family for more than eighty years, and is still in use. Of course it is a little worse for wear, but it may be made "new" again simply by recovering its face with a new piece of cloth.—Pathfinder Magazine.
